1. (00:00-00:39) What question does the host ask at the beginning?
   If you had to take 1 film to watch on a lifeboat, what film would it be?

2. (00:39-01:20) What does Guillermo del Toro about the film "The Road Warrior"?
   He says that he would choose this film to go on the lifeboat with him. He suggests that this film is not especially prestigious, and that it "completely destroyed his brain". He said that The Road Warrior was the first time that he realised how the camera moved, and that it was like a 'ballet'.

1. (00:39-01:20) What does Guillermo del Toro say about the film "Frankenstein"?
   He says that if he was on a lifeboat watching The Road Warrior, halfway through the film he would think that he wants to watch Frankenstein.

4. (02:18-02:46) What does director Patty Jenkins say about the film "I know Where I'm going"?
   She says that she loves that movie, and that the design of it fascinates her because it is so romantic, but you never really notice that it is becoming so romantic. She also says that it is so good and timeless.

5. (02:46-03:28) What 2 emotions constitute 'love' according to Patty Jenkins
   Fear and desire

6. (03:28-04:00) What does Patty Jenkins say about our desire in love?
   That the desire is to get the upper hand, but once you get it, the love is not as strong anymore.

7. (04:50-05:26) What does Patty Jenkins describe as the game of directing?
   That you are studying and "paying homage" to those before you and then turning it a little bit.

8. (05:44-06:38) What does director Joe Wright say about his father and his influence on his career?
   He says that his father was a puppeteer and he made beautiful marrionette shows. He founded the first ever purpose-built puppet theatre in London, but puppetry was considered by many to be for children's shows, whereas he considered it to be a fine art. He says that the perceived failure of his father gave him the determination to do better as a film director.

9. (06:49-07:11) What does director Joe Wright say about the film "Wings of Desire"?
   He says that the film is about humanity, and on a lifeboat he might need to be reminded of his love for humanity.

10. (07:11-08:36) Why did director Denis Villeneuve feel like "the bad son"?
    He was liked by a master film maker who made documentary films, some of which are considered masterpieces. However, Denis Villeneuve was attracted to fiction and felt like he let his 'master' down.

11. (08:36-09:28) What does Denis Villeneuve say about the film "2001: A space Odyssey"?
    He says that Space Odyssey would prepare him for death if he was on a lifeboat. He says that it is his favourite film of all time. He discovered it on television when he was young, but he was not allowed to watch it because it was on too late for him. He also says that it is a very existential film.
